

Position Title: Northwest Deputy Regional Director (DRD)
Reports to: Director of Western Regional Operations
Start Date: Immediately
Location: The position can be located in the San Francisco Bay Area or in Seattle, WA

Do you want to work at the intersection of politics, Middle East policy, the Jewish community and fundraising? Are you interested in joining a rapidly expanding organization that is changing the way people think and talk about Israel and U.S. Middle East policy?

Position

J Street seeks an experienced professional to serve as Deputy Director in its Northwest Regional office. Working as an important member of the newly constituted Western Regional team, s/he will be responsible for collaboratively executing a plan in Northern California and the Pacific Northwest that grows the organization's leadership ranks, raises operating and political funds, and advances the pro-Israel, pro-peace agenda in the American policy and Jewish communal arenas.

J Street's mission is to change both the way American politics and the American Jewish community operate when it comes to Israel and the U.S.-Israel relationship. The regional offices focus on cultivating local leadership to build the organization's political and Jewish communal power to achieve those goals.

The ideal candidate will have a background in fundraising as well as politics and/or the Jewish community. This position is an outstanding opportunity for a talented, motivated individual to join an organization whose influence and reach are growing enormously year-to-year.

Responsibilities

The Deputy Regional Director is part of an eight-person team located throughout the Western U.S. that works closely with, and depends on, local volunteer leaders to achieve fundraising, advocacy, political and communal goals. The DRD's job is an exciting blend of fundraising, leadership development, political advocacy, electoral politics and Jewish community relations. This position calls for frequent travel across the region.

Specific responsibilities include:

- Implementing the strategic plan for the region to achieve fundraising, advocacy, political, and communal goals;
- Cultivating and manage relationships with existing regional donors, with an eye on maintaining and increasing their financial support for J Street as well as identifying and engaging new prospective donors;
- Working with supporters to build strong advocacy networks geared towards nurturing ongoing relationships with Senators and Members of Congress;
- Building and maintaining relationships within J Street and among local supporters with federal campaigns, and raising money and support for JStreetPAC-endorsed candidates; and

- Ensuring that J Street is appropriately represented at relevant community events and that the organization and its leaders are engaging with the established leaders of the Jewish community locally, attempting both to enlist allies in advocacy to advance pro-Israel, pro-peace positions and to open up the dialogue in the Jewish community on Israel.

Desired Skills and Characteristics

The ideal candidate will possess the following:

- A minimum of 6 years of experience in development, as well as politics, advocacy, and/or Jewish communal work;
- A personally engaging style: A master of relationship-building with a positive and proactive approach to working with leadership and other supporters;
- A track record of success in previous fundraising as well as political or Jewish communal work;
- Strong organizational skills; Able to prioritize multiple tasks as well as reconcile competing priorities, conscientious, intentional, trustworthy, and dependable, with an eye for details;
- Strong team skills: The ability to work within a structure that includes team members in multiple locations; and
- A strong commitment to J Street's mission and a desire to become policy fluent on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and Middle East politics.

More about J Street

J Street is the political home for pro-Israel, pro-peace Americans working for the future of Israel as the democratic homeland of the Jewish people. The organization believes that preserving Israel's Jewish and democratic character depends on achieving a two-state solution, resulting in a Palestinian state living alongside Israel in peace and security.

Launched in 2008 with a staff of four and a limited budget, J Street is now a $9 million organization with a national staff of more than 60. The organization is headquartered in Washington, DC, employing staff in eight cities including Oakland, Los Angeles, Boston, Chicago, New York, Denver, and Tel Aviv.

J Street focuses its work in three main areas: (1) Advocating and demonstrating support for pro-Israel, pro-peace policies in Congress, the media and the Jewish community; (2) Endorsing and raising money for federal candidates who share J Street's agenda; and (3) Educating the public and raising awareness of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and the two-state solution.

The J Street family of organizations is comprised of:

J Street, a 501(c)(4) organization and registered lobby that seeks to complement the work of existing organizations and individuals that share J Street's agenda through lobbying and advocacy efforts.

The J Street Education Fund (JSEF), a legally independent 501(c)(3) organization that works to open up the conversation on Israel in the American Jewish community, educate Americans and elected officials about the urgent need for a two-state solution and organize Americans in support of active U.S. leadership to achieve this objective. JSEF's operations include its regional, J Street U, rabbinic and educational programs.

JStreetPAC, the largest pro-Israel political action committee in the U.S. and the first PAC formed to endorse and raise money for federal candidates who champion pro-Israel, pro-peace policies, including a two-state solution. In 2016, JStreetPAC distributed a record high of $3.6 million to 124 endorsed candidates.

Compensation and Hours

Salary for this position will be commensurate with skills and experience. Duties may fluctuate based on J Street event and staff travel schedules. Benefits include paid vacation and sick leave, paid time off on federal and Jewish holidays, health and dental insurance, company paid life insurance, 401k and flexible spending account.

To Apply for the Position

This position is available immediately. Interested candidates should submit 1) A cover letter that explains why you are interested and qualified; 2) A resume; and 3) A list of three references by email to resumes@jstreet.org with "Northwest Deputy Regional Director" in the subject line.

J Street is an Equal Opportunity Employer.