

J Street Seminary Student Fellowship

Meet the 5782 Fellows!

Max Antman (He/Him)

Max Antman is a third year rabbinical student at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Los Angeles. Previously, Max worked as a community organizer and legislative staffer at the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism and United Nations Foundation in Washington D.C, focusing primarily on issues of racial equity, global health advocacy, LGBTQIA+ equality and immigration. Max is a trained diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) consultant. Max previously served as a T'ruah Year-In-Israel Fellow and currently sits on the Commission on Social Action of Reform Judaism (CSA).

Miriam Hoffman (She/Her)

Miriam Hoffman is a fourth year rabbinical student at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Los Angeles. She has been a part of the J Street community since she founded the J Street U chapter at the University of Arizona. She is currently the rabbinic intern at USC Hillel and is looking forward to engaging students in nuanced conversations about Israel.

Armin Langer (He/Him)

Armin Langer is a senior rabbinical student at the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College in Philadelphia and a Ph.D. candidate in sociology at the Humboldt University of Berlin. Since 2020, he has worked as student rabbi at Congregation Am Haskalah in the Lehigh Valley, PA. Since 2019, he has been a visiting research scholar at Brandeis University's Schusterman Center for Israel Studies.

Ze'evi Tovlev (They/Them)

Ze'evi Simcha Tovlev is a candidate for cantorial ordination at Hebrew Union College — Jewish Institute of Religion, Debbie Friedman School of Sacred Music (expected 2023), and a graduate of the Rhea Hirsch School of Education with a Masters in Jewish Education. They hold the Joyce Rosenzweig Prize for Creativity in Worship Music, and the Cantor Edward R. Fogel — St. Louis Circle of Jewish Music Prize for Vocal Development. Ze'evi is a student cantor at Congregation Gates of Heaven in Schenectady, NY and a guest cantorial intern at Congregation Beit Simchat Torah in New York, NY. They are a past fellow of T'ruah's Rabbinical and Cantorial Student Fellowship in Human Rights. As one of the first transgender cantorial students, Ze'evi works toward expanding the vision of our collective future to encompass those who have been routinely marginalized in Jewish life.

Andy Weissfeld (He/Him)

Andy Weissfeld is a fourth year rabbinical student at the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York City. Andy grew up in Pittsburgh, but also calls Bethesda, Maryland a second home. He comes from the world of Jewish education, having spent many years working for synagogues, USY, and Ramah. Currently, Andy serves as a Rabbinical School climate organizing fellow for Dayenu: A Jewish Call to Climate Action. He also interns at a synagogue in South Jersey. Andy developed a passion for Israel while studying there on the Nativ gap year program after high school, and more recently with his Rabbinical school classmates from 2019-2020.
