

Canvassing Days: Leadership FAQ October 24-25, 2026

Fall National Leadership

Summit

October 24-26, 2026

➔ What are we doing and why does it matter?

One week out from the election, J Street is going all in. Our leaders from across the country are converging on Atlanta for our National Leadership Summit and two days of hard GOTV canvassing to push early voting and knocking doors for Sen. Jon Ossoff and competitive state House races up and down the ballot.

October 24-25 is "Souls to the Polls" weekend – one of the biggest voter mobilization pushes of the cycle focused on turning out the Black community in the final stretch. The Ossoff campaign is already planning a major effort, and we're plugging J Street directly into that energy.

These are the moments we show up for!

➔ When can I canvas?

Canvassing will take place on both Saturday and Sunday, in morning and afternoon shifts. More details on exact timing will be coming soon. We want to provide lots of flexibility and canvassing opportunities so everyone can get involved.

Sunday starts with breakfast followed by a launch event before canvassing gets underway.

➔ Do I need canvassing experience?

No! Canvassing trainings will be provided and more details are coming. If you can knock on a door and have a conversation, you're qualified.

➔ How will I get to my canvassing location?

We're still working on transportation, but we will have a plan closer to the date, and we will handle transportation. The Saturday morning meet-up and Sunday morning launch will be at the hotel or within walking distance of it.

➔ What happens at the doors?

You'll have a script, a walk list, and a clear ask: VOTE! The campaign and J Street will handle the logistics. You bring the enthusiasm!

➔ I want to help, but not sure I want to commit to walking around. Will there be other opportunities?

Yes, we will also provide phone banking opportunities at the Summit hotel on Sunday.

➔ How do I sign up or get more info?

You can sign up to canvass – for Saturday only, Sunday only or both – when you register for the Fall Summit at jstreet.org/fallsummit. If you've already registered and aren't sure you signed up to canvass, you can reach out to a member of J Street's staff and we can check for you.

More information about our Canvassing Days will be added to our Participant Information tab on the Fall Summit website linked here. This page will be updated as we continue to confirm the logistics for the Canvassing Days.
